FALL TERM TUESDAY

OUTLOOK GOOD FOR THE COMING TERM OF STATE NORMAL.

SEVERAL MORE TEACHERS

Miss Helen Zenor, New Music Teacher—Miss Tessie Degan in the Commerce Department.

The state Normal School will open its fall session Tuesday, September 11. The first day will be given to classification and registration of students, regular class work beginning Wednesday, September 12th.

Very few changes are made in the faculty, which is practically the same as last year. Miss Helen Zenor, who comes from Ada, Okla., will have charge of the music department. Miss Zenor is a former student of the State Normal School at Warrensburg. She taught in the grades at Webster Groves, Mo., and Monett, Mo., is a graduate of the Beethoven Conservatory of Music at St. Louis, and has practically finished the work for her degree from Oklahoma University. She has been supervisor of music for four years in the public schools of Paris, Texas, and during the past year has had charge of music in the State Normal School at Ada, Okla., with fifteen hundred students enrolled in the summer session. In addition to the above preparation she has had splendid training under private teachers in St. Louis.

Miss Tessie Degan, a member of the faculty of Benton High School at St. Joseph, has been made an assistant in the Department of Commerce and will continue her studies in the Normal School during the entire year and assist in the department during the fall and winter quarters during Mr. Greathouse's leave of absence. Miss Degan is a former student of the Normal School and has had several years of successful experience in the Department of Commerce at Benton High School.

A complete reorganization of the elementary school in connection with the Normal School has been made for the coming year. These schools will be used largely as demonstration schools and will be made to exemplify the best type of instruction and organization of this work. The work will comprise the kindergarten-primary and elementary school and a junior high school. The rooms on the first floor of the Normal School building have been specially arranged to carry out this plan of work. Three teachers have been employed for the entire year in the elementary school. Miss Ruth Beggs, a graduate of the Normal School and for four years in charge of the primary grades of the public schools of Shelbyville, Mo., will have charge of grades one and two. Miss Pearl Wilkerson, a graduate of the Normal School and for several years teacher of the primary grades in the public schools of Union Star, Mo., will have charge of grades three and four. Miss Mattie Dykes, a graduate of the Normal School with teaching experience in the grades of Cedar Falls, Iowa, and last year in the high school at King City, will have charge of grades five and six. The seventh and eighth grades will be organized in junior high school work with departmental instruction under the supervision of Dr. S. E. Davis, director of the Department of Education and Training.

This organization, toward which the school has been working for some three or four years, has the unqualified approval of some of the best public school people in the state and represents a distinct step in advance over current practices in the training of teachers in normal schools throughout the country. The students in training will be organized into class groups and will have much study and observation of the work being done in typical public school situations. These groups will be based upon the dominant interest and purpose of the students,—those preparing for kindergarten-primary grades, those preparing for upper grades and rural school teaching, and those preparing for high school teaching. The new arrangement will make of the elementary school a real public school, minus the many changes that have usually occurred through the frequent introduction of new teachers in the various grades. The junior high school will permit definite organization on the departmental plan. The three groups mentioned above will be under the instruction-supervision, and direction of three supervisors,—Miss Mildred Miller having charge of the students in training for kindergarten-primary grades, Miss Beulah Brunner having charge of classes of students in training for upper grades and rural schools, and Dr. Davis having charge of students in training for high school teaching. The children of the elementary school will be under the constant instruction and supervision of the three room teachers mentioned above.

The elementary school and junior high school will begin their work on Wednesday morning, September 12th. Transportation facilities will be arranged for children of the kindergarten and first and second grades. Definite announcement of these arrangements will be made the latter part of the week. There are yet some places available for children in the grades of the training school. Applications for these should be made at the office of the Normal School.

The outlook for attendance, considering the conditions this year, is very good. Many students have already visited Maryville and made arrangements for living accommodations, and everything bids fair for a very successful year's work, with a more definite and satisfactory organization in every department of the school.

DUNCANS TO TEXAS

After Residing Here for 33 Years, Prof. and Mrs. B. F. Duncan are Moving to Texas City.

Prof. B. F. Duncan left this afternoon for a visit at Kansas City with his son, John M. Duncan, and from that place will go on to Fort Worth, Tex., where he will live. He was accompanied to Kansas City by Mrs. S. V. Dooley, who is on her way home to Forth Worth. Mrs. Duncan and her daughter, Mrs. A. L. Wait, of Tulsa, Okla., left Maryville yesterday afternoon for Kansas City.

Prof and Mrs. Duncan are moving away from Maryville after a residence here since 1884. They recently sold their property here to John Hamilton. Prof. Duncan, during his residence here, has been connected with every educational movement in the county and during that time was county superintendent of schools, principal of the Maryville High school ten years, was head of the Latin and Greek department in the Maryville Seminary, was superintendent of the city schools for nine years and was an instructor in the State Normal School for a few years. They have many friends here who wish them success in their new home.

Mrs. John Graves of Quitman, who has been seriously ill is reported unimproved.

C. E. KANE WRITES OF WORK UNIVERSITY MEN ARE DOING.

ARE CLOSE TO THE LINES

Field Service Members Under Fire When They Drive Transports at Night.

Charles E. Kane of Maryville who is now a member of the University of Missouri unit of the American Field Service has written the Daily Missourian at Columbia the following letter:

IN CAMP, SOMEWHERE IN FRANCE, Aug. 9.—The closer you get to the war, as a rule, the less you know about its policies, its successes and its failures. Twenty-two members of the University of Missouri unit of the American Field Service have their transport headquarters on a hill only three or four miles removed from the front and can pick out German, as well as French, observation balloons on a clear day; but interested friends and relatives at home shouldn't make the mistake of asking them so much about the war, for, in the first place, they probably don't know, and in the second place the censor and their own plighted word would keep them from passing on to the U. S. the things that they might guess at or get by hearsay. "Somewhere in France" is about as good an address as they may give, unless it is "T. M. U. 133, Convois Autos, Per B. C. M., Paris, France," to which their letters should be sent.

There is no particular secret, though, about the work we are doing and the way it is done. The work of the American Ambulance, the other and older branch of the service, has been completely described, but as far as we know the transport branch, into which most of the recent recruits have gone, has yet to be "written up" satisfactorily.

What the Truck Service Is.

In the automobile service of the French army are about 80,000 drivers. Thirty thousand of these are in the truck, or camion, work, which transports troops to and fro and hauls war materials from the railheads toward the front. The American Field Service is slowly taking over what is known as "Mallet's Reserve"—named after its commander, Captain Mallet—and already almost a third of the 2,000 drivers in the reserve are Americans. The reserve is supposed to be shifted whencertainty of seeing various parts of the ever the front is most active, and the front is held out as a special inducement to the Americans.

The organization within the reserve is by "groupments" of several "groups," each group being composed of three or four sections. The sections are the mobile units; each has from twenty to twenty-five cars, two drivers to each. The rest of the average of sixty men in a section is taken up by officers, men injured or sick and men on "permission," the regular vacation given in the French army.

Our twenty-two men were added to the Princeton unit of forty to bring the section up to its newly required strength of sixty. When we came, six new trucks were added to the section and the first "permissions" began. We have been here nearly three weeks now, camped on a hill above a little village, around which are grouped most of the American sections;we have made about ten trips, one every two days; we are pretty well assimilated, and are all ready to start our own permissions, which will begin early in September, after all the Princetonians have been out, nine men at a time, on vacations of seven days, exclusive of time spent traveling. The government owns the railways over here and takes you free wherever you want to go. Most of the permissionaires so far have gone to Paris and Dinard, the latter on the western coast, but others now are going to Paris and Chamonix, in the French Alps, and towns on the Mediterranean coast.

The ordinary "poilu" gets his permission only once every three months, but there is a rumor that we way start around again as soon as we finish our first round, thereby getting a week off every two months. When we are on duty we are subject to call at any minute; the ambulance men get "repos" when they have about a month of absolute freedom from work, and this system of permissions is expected to

ATTENDANCE WAS CUT DOWN TODAY AT COUNTY FAIR.

PONY SHOW IS TONIGHT

Gate Receipts so Far Have Amounted to About $3,700—Yesterday's Winners in the Races.

The rain this morning cut down the attendance at the county fair today. However this afternoon a good crowd was present for the racing program.

The gate receipts have not been as high as they were in former years. Yesterday, the gate receipts were in the neighborhood of $2,500. For the three days, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, the gate receipts amounted to about $3,700.

The pony show will be held tonight in connection with the horse show in order that the large night crowds may be able to witness this exhibit, which was scheduled to show this morning.

Because of the wet condition of the grounds only one class of the cattle show was judged this morning. In the Jersey class J. F. Wells was the chief entry. He took six first, two seconds and a third.

A crowd variously estimated between 6,000 and 7,000 people thronged the fair grounds yesterday afternoon. The afternoon's program was good. The racing card was well filled with entries and one extra race was added to the scheduled speed program.

The Wilcox triplets held a public reception on the platform between the hours of 3 and 4 o'clock, which made a decided hit with the fair crowd. Rev. C. E. Miller introduced the triplets.

A feature of the afternoon events was the James Andy Ford Special. This race consisted of a combination mile run between the Guideless Wonder, on the one hand, and Riley Boy and Rodney, on the other, in an effort to set a new track record. The Guideless Wonder was too fast for the other horses who were unable to push him to the limit, although the time made was 2:15.

Judge Henacy made a very favorable impression with the crowd during the afternoon program when he very firmly stated that no betting was allowed on the races. This announcement followed some rumors to the effect that several bets had been placed on some horses in one of the races.

During the performance of one of the free attractions one of the Bicketts was injured slightly when the apparatus on which he was performing fell and he was thrown under it. The injury was not severe enough to keep him from acting in the evening.

The winners in the races yesterday are as follows:

Frisco Chimes, owner, J. F. Cole, Brookfield, 2, 2, 2.

AUTOS COLLIDED AT FAIR

Miss Myrtle Dowden of St. Joseph Received Injuries—Accident at Midnight Last Night

Two autos had a head-on collision at the fair grounds last night about 12 o'clock and Miss Myrtle Dowden of St. Joseph, who was an occupant of one of the cars, received severe cuts about the face and head and eyes, and sustained a strained neck and shoulder. Three stitches had to be taken. None of the others were injured.

Miss Dowden with two gentlemen friends, said to be Roscoe Blazier of Maitland and B. Jennings of St. Joseph was in the Scott & Diss jitney driven by Louie Bramble. They had stopped at the southeast curve of the race track and it is claimed the lights on the car were out. A car driven by Charles Bears of Clearmont and containing Carl Burch, Lafe Watson and Ernest Dale, also of that town, was running on the race track coming the opposite direction and swung out in order to let another car pass. In doing this, the Clearmont car ran head-on into the Scott & Diss jitney. Both cars were badly damaged and it will probably take $100 to fix each of them.

How Long Must I Suffer From the Pangs of Rheumatism?

Is there no real relief in sight?

Doubtless like other sufferers, you have often asked yourself this question, which continues to remain unanswered.

Science has proven that your Rheumatism is caused by a germ in your blood, and the only way to reach it is by a remedy which eliminates and removes these little pain demons from your blood. This explains why liniments and lotions can do no permanent good, for they cannot possibly reach these germs which infest your blood by the millions.

S. S. S. has been successfully used for Rheumatism for more than fifty years. Try it to-day, and you will find yourself at last on the right track to get rid of your Rheumatism. You can get valuable advice about the treatment of your individual case by writing to the Chief Medical Adviser, Swift Specific Co., Dept. D Atlanta, Ga.

Get Orders at 1 A. M.

We make on an average one trip—from eight to fourteen hours—every other day. Orders come in at 1 a. m.; for day runs, which are usually entirely safe, we leave camp from 3:30 to 5 a. m. French time, and the French use the daylight saving plan by advancing everything an hour; for night runs, which are usually pretty close to the lines and nearly always under fire, we leave any time from 4 to 7:30 p. m. We drive at night without lights—and not slowly. Even a truck has possibilities of speed, we find; and our 5-ton Pierce-Arrows have sometimes reached 20 or 25 miles an hour. The orders in convoy are to run about ten.

A convoy is a group of cars, running in order and close together, giving very much the impression of a freight train winding over the country; and it is a freight train, for trucks and the fine French system of rock roads have overcome the German advantage of carefully planned railways. We are really freight trains to the front.

Usually we go out in convoys of fourteen trucks, especially when we haul the "seventy-five" shells—and wee arry them on three trips out of every four. Each truck will carry fifty cases of shells. With thirteen trucks for shells and the fourteenth for fuses, a convoy can take care of what the French call a "lot" of shells—about 650 cases. We haul from parks, or storage places at the depots, to other parks near the batteries, where the shells are picked up at night by the artillery caissons. Sometimes when there is a rush we carry direct from the freight cars to the artillery drivers. Much of our time ordinarily is taken up by waits in the parks while the old and rather middle-aged French soldiers are loading the cars.

Night Work Interesting.

So much for the work, which is not excessively hard. While at rest we are subject to call at any time and therefore must stay in or near our camp, but there is opportunity for exercise, reading or sleeping. Then there is police duty in cleaning up camp and driving over after our daily two barrels of water and guarding the camions at night. Night work is always interesting, for there are the gleaming star shells and the quick flashes of artillery, particularly effective when a barrage, or curtain fire, is in progress.

Most of us are housed in standard French barracks of wood and tar paper, but nine of the Missouri men are living in remorgues, or trailers, and they say they are better off than the rest of us. As for food, we get a standard breakfast of one boiled egg, bread and jam and hot black coffee, while the rest of our meals are simple but hearty; they average somewhat better than those of the French private, for the field service contributes something toward our supply of food.

We are busy and pretty well satisfied, though we have not given the work a tryout long enough to decide finally. But you can bet the Missouri spirit will hold its own, even out here at the front in France.

A. L. Oakerson Has a Birthday.

The following is from the Skidmore News:

Tuesday night a few friends of Lon Oakerson drove out to his home and surprised him it being one day after his birthday.

There were several from town in the party. G. L. Owen led the way in his twin six Packard, followed by the Spahrs in their new Peerless. They in turn were closely followed by the Harrisons in their twin eight Buick all good cars begin with P, as you will see by the foregoing. After them came a score or more of a cheaper line of cars of which the Pierce Arrow was the lowest price car. You can see from this that it was a very nice bunch.

After spending 12 hours with the Oakersons and listening to some excellent solos and recitations by Mr. and Mrs. Oakerson, the guests departed wishing their host and hostess that the birthday would surely be multiplied by two and that they would always be present

Nebraska land, Nebraska land, as on thy burning soil I stand,
I look away across the plains and wonder why it never rains,
Till Gabriel comes his trumpet sounds, and says the rain has gone around.

The above is a song sang by A. L. Oakerson on the 46th anniversary of his coming to Missouri.

The following were present: Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Owen, Mrs. Gertrude Hickman, Mrs. J. I. Parrish, and daughter, Rev. and Mrs. D. F. Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Mitchell, R. B. Foster, Mr. and Mrs. H. Howden, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Strickler, Misses Luella and Geraldine Strickler, Bessie Mitchell, Ella Manchester, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Oakerson, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Oakerson.

Too Many Operations

The Right Medicine in Many Cases Does Better than the Surgeon's Knife. Tribute to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Doctor Said Operation or Death—But Medicine Cured.

Des Moines, Iowa.—"My husband says I would have been in my grave today had it not been for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I suffered from a serious female trouble and the doctors said I could not live one year without an operation. My husband objected to the operation and had me try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I soon commenced to get better and am now well and able to do my own housework. I can recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to any woman as a wonderful health restorer."—Mrs. Blanche Jefferson, 703 Lyon St., Des Moines, Iowa.

Another Operation Avoided.

Richmond, Ind.—"For two years I was so sick and weak from female troubles that when going up stairs I had to go very slowly with my hands on the steps, then sit down at the top to rest. The doctor said he thought I should have an operation, and my friends thought I would not live to move into our new house. My daughter asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as she had taken it with good results. I did so, my weakness disappeared, I gained in strength, moved into our new home, do all kinds of garden work, and raised hundreds of chickens and ducks. I cannot say enough in praise of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. M. O. Johnston, Route D, Box 190, Richmond, Ind.

Of course there are many serious cases that only a surgical operation will relieve. We freely acknowledge this, but the above letters, and many others like them, amply prove that many operations are recommended when medicine in many cases is all that is needed.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

You Repay Borrowed Money to Us Just Like Paying Rent

Building a home is a simple proposition when you borrow money from the MARYVILLE HOMESTEAD AND LOAN ASSOCIATION. All you have to do is to have your lot or land, and we will loan you money to build your home.

We have made possible the ownership of homes that would not have been built otherwise right here in our own community. If you are thrifty and have saved or could save, this organization is ready to aid you. If you are ambitious to own your home, but do not have sufficient means, here you have the way already planned for you.

You can borrow money from us at 7.8 per cent interest. By paying it out on the installment plan, the net rate to you will be only 4.7 per cent. To be a borrower in this association, you become a stockholder. You pay $1 a month dues on each share of stock, which has a value of $200. This increases in value each month as you make more payments. If you pay out the loan at the regular payments, you will have the indebtedness cancelled in 11 years.

Some Facts About This Loan Association

It will loan you money for remodeling as well as to build a home.

It now has plenty of money to loan, and solicits borrowers.

It is a mutual organization operated for the benefit of its members and presents easy methods of owning homes with small starts

It presents safe investment for savings deposits, at good rates of interest

It has special safe guards as provided by law

It gives liberal returns by keeping its money constantly at work by economical management and low risks and by distributing its earnings direct to its members

It offers privileges of withdrawal without forfeitures

After a loan is made, the sum of $1.30 a share interest is due and payable monthly in addition to the dues. If desired $200 or multiples thereof may be paid at any time, the monthly payments being thereby reduced; or the whole debt may be paid at any time. The withdrawal value of the stock will be allowed as a credit, if desired, and the stock cancelled.

If there is any information you want about the Loan Association, just come to the office of R. L. McDougal, the secretary, in the Alderman-Yehle Dry Goods Company building, or see any of these directors: J. G. Grems, C. W. Yehle, Will F. Phares, M. Nusbaum, Richard Kuchs, W. C. Pierce, Roy J. OBITUARY.

In the autumn time, in the month of December, on the 3rd day, in the year 1914, there came to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Pope a beautiful baby boy. He was christened James Calvin. He brought sunshine and gladness with him. The parents were happy and for three short years their hopes were bright for the future. But, alas, sickness came, and soon told them that sorrow, and the deepest grief were to take the place of happiness and cheer. After the almost incredibly short time of four days the little one went away to return no more. The best possible medical care and nursing was secured that could be found, but despite of it all death claimed him in the night time at 11:45 p. m., the 4th day of September, being 2 years, 9 months and 1 day old. While the home will be lonely, and the grief will be deep, we are comforted with the thought the Jesus, the Savior of men said: "Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of Heaven." All will profoundly sympathize with the stricken parents in their sorrow. Funeral at Swan Chapel Thursday afternoon by the Rev. J. Howard Thompson of Ridgeway. —Contributed.

Cleveland's Heady Leader

Lee Fohl, chief of the Cleveland Americans, has made a success of a club that for several years was a financial failure. Last year his team made a brilliant fight and for two months led the league, only to fall back and finish in sixth place. This year the club is playing fine ball and looks as though it would finish in the first division. When Fohl was appointed manager of the Indians in 1916 the act created considerable surprise and comment. Fohl was what was known as a "bush league manager." As a matter of remarkable fact, he had never played in the big leagues. Fohl's baseball career, even as a bush leaguer, was nothing remarkable. He devoted more time to the managing end of the game than the playing side. Lee is now thirty-seven years old. He began with Des Moines in 1903 as a catcher. He never played any other position. After Des Moines he played with Homestead, Pa.; Youngstown, O.; Columbus, O., and was then given his first managership at Lima, O., in 1909. In 1914 he obtained a job as leader of the Waterbury (Conn.) team. It was from the Waterbury club that he went to assume charge of the Cleveland tail-end aggregation.

Reuther Joins the Reds.

Walter Reuther, the hard hitting left handed pitcher with the Chicago Nationals, has joined the Cincinnati club, to which he was released for the waiver price. Reuther, who came from the Pacific Coast league, has not been pitching in good form since early in the season.

Boil for about an hour and seal, and, if one likes, she can add one-half dozen onions to tomatoes and a dash of red pepper.

Cold Tomato Sauce.—One peck ripe tomatoes, chop and drain, not using the juice; three red peppers, chopped; one cupful horseradish, grated; six medium sized onions, one cupful celery, chopped; one-half cupful salt, one-half cupful white mustard seed, one tablespoonful celery seed, two pounds of brown sugar, one ounce of cinnamon, one quart cider vinegar. Let stand overnight and seal without corking.

Sweet Cucumber Pickles.—Wash cucumbers and pack closely in jar, make brine of one cupful of salt to a gallon of water (have boiling hot); pour over cucumbers and let stand twenty-four hours. Wipe dry and cover with weak vinegar (boiling hot) and let stand another twenty-four hours; drain. Spice last vinegar with mixed spices, nasturtium seed, brown sugar to suit taste and two green peppers. Boil mixture five minutes, add pickles and just heat through, put into jars and seal.

Celery Relish.—Thirty ripe tomatoes, three green peppers, four bunches (small) celery, cut in small pieces, four onions, three cupfuls cider vinegar, one and one-half cupful brown sugar, four tablespoonfuls salt. Chop fine and boil slowly three hours.

SUGAR NOT NECESSARY IN HOME CANNING

Fruits will keep perfectly well in water when properly packed in jars.

Buying large quantities of sugar for canning summer fruits is not necessary if expense is prohibitive. Sugar may be added in small quantities at time of serving.

The flavor will not be exactly the same as when the fruit is preserved in sirup, but the healthfulness and food value are equal.

Russia's Strong Man a Leader of Great Force

With the ascendancy of Kerensky to almost supreme power in Russia the affairs of that nation seem to be on the most stable basis achieved since the revolution. As premier and minister of war and marine he is in a position to make the most of Russia's great resources. So far as at present known he appears to have the confidence of the many conflicting elements of the newly formed government.

Alexander F. Kerensky was the leading figure in the group which effected the establishment of the new government in March. He was the first member of the duma to tell that body that the czar and the dark forces in the government must go. It was on his initiative that the executive committee of the duma was formed. Kerensky was born in Tashkend, central Asia, in 1882. His parents were poor, but through the influence of friends he was enabled to enter the University of Moscow. When graduated he began the practice of law and soon became a leader of the revolutionary element. He is a man of medium height, active and alert. He is described as possessing courage, high mindedness, presence of mind and ready tact. As an orator he has few equals anywhere.

Ways of Making Apple Ketchup and Preserves

Apple Ketchup.—Quarter, pare and core twelve sour apples. Put in a saucepan; cover with water and let simmer until soft. Nearly all the water should be evaporated. Rub through a sieve and add the following to each quart of pulp: One cupful of sugar, one teaspoonful of cloves, one teaspoonful of mustard, two teaspoonfuls of cinnamon and one tablespoonful of salt, two cupfuls of vinegar and two grated onions. Bring the ketchup to a boil and let simmer gently for one hour. Bottle, cork and seal.

Apple Conserve.—For each pound of quartered and pared apples allow one pound of sugar and half a pint of water. Boil sugar and water, add apples and simmer until clear. Take up apples, lay on plates and dry in the sun. Roll in sugar and pack in tin boxes lined with wax paper.

Apple Chips.—Cut eight pounds of sweet apples into pieces. Don't pare; add four pounds of sugar and one-fourth of a pound of Canton ginger. Add sugar and ginger to the apples, let stand twenty-four hours, add four lemons, cut into small pieces, rejecting seeds. Cook slowly three hours. Put into glasses or jars; cover with paraffin.

Preserved Apples.—Quarter and core apples, fill an earthen crock two-thirds full, cover and bake slowly for several hours. Seal in air tight jars. When ready to use stand the jar in a kettle of water and heat.

Mother's Doll Story

Polly's Cracker.

Once upon a time there was a little boy who had a rag doll parrot.

This Polly had a yellow body and green wings and a blue tail. And every time anybody went near her Polly would cry out, "Polly wants a cracker!"

One day the little boy and Polly were out in the back yard building a fort in the sand pile. They worked very hard in the hot sunshine. The little boy dug, and Polly brought armfuls of sand till at last the fort was so high that they could hardly look over the top of it.

Then something happened. They both got very hungry, indeed. It was still a long time before luncheon. So what do you think Polly did?

She flew up on the fence back of the fort, and when an old man came walking past she cried out, "Polly wants a cracker!"

"Bless you, take the whole bag!" said the old man, delighted with Polly.

So he gave his crackers to Polly, and she flew back to the fort and shared them with its little builder.

I wish all my flowers were like you,
Always ready any weather,
Brave and pretty altogether.

Packing Salt Pickled Green Tomatoes In Brine

Water tight kegs or crocks may be used to hold pickled tomatoes. Wash thoroughly and steam the kegs or crocks.

Wash the tomatoes. On the bottom of the container place a layer of dill and a handful of mixed spice. Pack the container full of tomatoes. Add a top layer of dill and spice. Pour over all enough weak brine to cover the tomatoes. Cover with a cheesecloth and a clean board cover. Place upon the board cover a clean stone weight sufficiently heavy to hold the tomatoes beneath the surface of the brine.

Leave in a warm room until fermentation is completed and no bubbles rise to the surface when the receptacle is tapped gently. Skim off any scum formed during fermentation. Store receptacle in a cool place. Cover the top of the brine with hot paraffin to form an air tight surface.

To make weak brine use one-half pint of vinegar, three-fourths cupful of salt, one gallon of water. Stir until salt is entirely dissolved.

Save Shoe Leather.

Proper care of shoes will not only do much to extend their life, but will also improve their appearance, says the Farm Journal. Keep the heels squared. A runover heel forces the counter out of shape and often breaks it. Avoid getting leather wet, but when wet and muddy gently wipe off the mud instead of letting it dry. While the leather is still wet rub in a little warm oil. The shoe should dry slowly. Do not place it in a hot oven or on a hot stove, as intense heat and cold are bad for leather and especially the changes from one to the other.

Protect Baby's Eyes.

Do not let the sun shine directly on baby's face when out of doors. Often we see little children in buggies or go-carts with no protection for the eyes, making a vain effort to turn away from the sun and, failing in this, squinting their little faces all out of shape to protect their eyes. There should always be a parasol or some kind of a sunshade over baby's head, and it should be lined with dark green, which is the most restful of colors. White parasols are a snare and a delusion, quite useless in affording the necessary protection against the sun's rays.
